

TAG PLANS MADE BY BETHANY HOME

First Saturday in October Is Settled Upon As Date of Annual Money-Raising Campaign.

FUNDS NEEDED FOR ADDITION

Enlargement of Institution Will Be Completed Next Month—Caring for Twenty-six Children.

Bethany home board met last night at the home with a good attendance of board members. Tag day was set for the first Saturday in October. Bills for the past month were allowed. Reports of children and of donations, etc., were read, but most of the time was occupied with the finishing details of the new addition to the home and the many alterations made in the old building. Things will be pretty well in shape by the first of next month and then the institution will have a very creditable home. Extra exertions will have to be made on tag day and subscriptions solicited in addition to the regular sale of tags in order to meet all bills.

There are 26 children in the home at present. During the past month homes were found for three and six were returned to parents. Fourteen of the children are county charges.

A letter was read from the ladies of the Buffalo Prairie church stating that owing to the scarcity of fruit they would be unable to send their usual donation, which in past years has been of great value and which will mean that a larger amount of jellies, preserves, etc., will have to be obtained from other sources.

Movie actors who work as extras, are organizing a union in New York. For some time these extras have been employed by the producers through certain theatrical agencies. The extras believe they have been exploited by the agencies and are forming an organization to deal with the producers directly.

The scale of wages they ask is $3 a day each when the number employed is less than 100, and $2 a day when the number is more than 100. For what they call hazardous work they ask a daily wage of $7.50. A good many situations which look hazardous when the pictures are shown on the screen are not so in fact. But a good many stunts require

ANDREW RUSSEL and Efficiency

The auditor holds the key to the treasury and he can save the state millions of dollars.

No office in the state government requires such a high degree of specialized training.

Under court decisions the auditor must pass upon the justice as well as the validity of claims for money from the state before he can issue warrants on the treasury.

He has jurisdiction over state banks and he must have knowledge of banking.

He helps determine the tax rate and he must know the state's financial needs.

RUSSEL IS HIGHLY QUALIFIED.

Forty-two years' banking experience, thorough knowledge of state finances and business ability make him the ideal man for the office.
